dgman, George F. Hodgman, Joseph arles A. Hoyt, Ambrose Dawes, Elbridge G. ow, John H. Washburn, E. A. Newell, J. B. and, E. D. Trowbridge, Francis G. Gorham, Henry Bowers, Samuel L. Munson, William J. Brann, Dr. Allen M. Thomas, Irving R. Fisher, Ellas Peck, Edward H. Johnson, Walter J. Peck, ther P. Hubbard, William R. Warren, Charles Coffin, Eugene Griffin, William P. Putney, miel O. Day, Charles H. Ropes, Edwin H. eatherbee, Charles D. Sabin, N. Harry Sabin, L. L. Danforth, Frederick von Staldt, Henry Davis, George H. Holt, Giles E. Talntor, Naniel C. Fisher, Dr. E. D. Fisher, Dr. George B. owler, Dr. Frederic Danne, Alvin Beveridge.

DR. STRYKER'S ELOQUENT ADDRESS

The first toast of the evening, "Forefathers' Day," was responded to by the Rev. Dr. Melancthon Woolsey Stryker, president of Hamilton College at Clinton, N. Y. Dr. Stryker is a man of fine presence and an orator of much force. What he said was historical as bearing upon the events which brought about the voyage of the Mayflower. Throughout his address there was a sober, almost solemn strain, which kindled the imagination in one moment even to the stirring of the emotions, while in the next some stirring of the emotions, while in the next some brilliant outburst of thought and eloquence excited spontaneous applianse. It dealt stunning blows at all theories of false and corrupt government. It exalted for the admiration of all the true and the good as applied to the administration of power, whether political or religious. Especially did he dwell upon any possible aggressions of foreign inituences in either Church or State. Welcoming all of whatever nativity to the soil, if they should become a part, and in a degree, a substance of the free people of the country, he especially emphasizes his warning against anything of an insidious nature whether fostered by State or Church, calculated to undermine, in the slightest degree, the principles for which the Government has always stood. More vigorously than anything did he assail the active which the Government has always stood. More vigorously than anything did he assail the active influences of the Roman Church, now, as alleged, operating more forcibly than ever before on this centinent. His quotation from the language of Washington, wherein he said: "Against the insidious wiles of foreign influence the jealousy of a free people ought to be constantly awoke," was received with a tremendous outburst of

THE OTHER SPEAKERS.

The next response was by Charles Dudley Warner to the teast, "The Way of the Pilgrim." Mr. Warner entertained his hearers, and all listened with gravity, hardly knowing whether it would be just the thing to laugh even when such pungent truths were so well told. Then Governor Russell, of Massachusetts, told of the merits, past and present, of his native State, and it was a delightful sketch well presented and well received. St. Clair McKelway, in his good-tempared and pleasing way, made some wonderful comparisons between "The Puritan and the Dutchman." The Rev. Dr. David H. Greer made a pleasing speech on "The Adopted Sons of New-England." General Horace Porter spoke of "The Patriotism of New-England," a theme hardly necessary to dwell upon, but most pleasingly reverted to by one of the most delightful of after-dinner orators. The closing toast, "A Word for the State We Live In." was responded to by Senator Charles T. Saxton.

Then Mr. Rollins presented the gavel to his successor, Elihu Root, who said: "Thank you," it would be just the thing to laugh even when and another New-England dinner given by the New-York Society was at an end.

During the progress of the dinner there was music by the orchestra. "On a Stern and Rock-Bound Coast" and "America" were also sung. (For a full report of the speeches delivered at the dinner, YANKEES OBSERVING THE DAY IN CHICAGO. Clicago, Dec. 22.-The Massachusetts Society of at the Grand Pacific Hotel to-night. The president of the society, Edward O. Brown, presided. Among of the society, Edward O. Brown, presided. Among those in attendance were the following: General and Mrs. Nelson A. Miles: Professor and Mrs. F. W. Putnam, the Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Johnson, Mrs. Willmarth, Professor and Mrs. E. W. Bemis, Mrs. and Mrs. William M. R. French, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Erskine M. Phelps, Judge and Mrs. Henry M. Shephard, Judge and Mrs. Kirk Hawes.

PURITAN CELEBRATION IN CINCINNATI. Cincinnati, Dec. 22.-Forefathers' Day was celebrated by the New-England Society to-night in an unusually brilliant manner. A Yankee dinner, unusually brilliant manner. A Yankee dinner, served in Yankee style, at the Grand Hotel, was the feature of the evening. L. C. Weir, the president of the society, presided. Following are the names of the speakers and their subjects: "The Landing of the Pilgrims," Principal E. W. Coy, "New-England of To-day," President W. J. Tucker, of Dartmouth College; "Yankees in the West," Frank O. Loveland; "Puritan Pearls," the Rev. Dr. A. J. Sage; "Yankee Sports," the Rev. Dr. Henry M. Curtis; "The Bench and Bar," William H. Taft.

FOREFATHERS DAY IN WASHINGTON. Washington, Dec. 22.-The Washington Congressional Club to-night gave a dinner con-memorating the landing of the Pilgrims. The officers of the club ara: President, Justice Brewer of the United States Supreme Court; vicepresidents, the Rev. Dr. S. M. Newman, the Rev. Dr. J. E. Rankin, and General Ellis Spear; secre-Dr. J. E. Rankin, and General Ellis Spear; secretary, G. A. L. Merrifield; treasurer, Alfred Wood. The dinner was given in the banquet hall of the Cochran Hotel, where 100 covers were laid. The Introductory speech was made by Justice Brewer, Vice-President Stevenson replied to the toast, "Sons of the Pilgrims of the Nation," Justice Harlan to "The Public School, the Gift of the Pilgrims of the Nation," and Senator Hawley, of Connecticut, to "The Puritans Believed in Something."

THE DAY IN ORANGE.

The New-England Society of Orange celebrated 'Forefathers' Day" by a dianer in Upper Music Hall, in that city, last evening. Sixty guests sat down. John O. Heald presided. The toosts and peakers were: "The Day We Celebrate," Camillus G. Kidder; "Of the Virtues of the Fathers," Daniel A. Heald; "The Puritan and the City," Amos Par-ker Wilder, of New-York; "We Dishonor Our Forefathers if We Do Not Excel Their Best Desis," the Rev. Dr. Charles Hall Everest, "Better Sanitation in Cilies," Dr. Albert Snaw; "Puritan Ideals," D. W. Richards; "Our Inheritance," Isaac
E. Gates, and "Our National Safety," R. W.

A PROBLEM FOR THE SCIENTIST.

In his lecture on 'The Homes of the Poor," delivered at the Temple Israel, of Harlem, Fifth-ave and One-hundred-and-twenty-fifth-st. hast night, the Rev. Dr. M. H. Harris made an earnest appeal for charity. He dweit on the wretched couplition of the densely populated tensment house district and argued that the amelioration of the existing conditions is as much a problem for the scientist as for the philanthropist. Dr. Harris warned his hearers against indiscriminate alms-giving and urged them to "mix thought with their charity to the end that the self-respect of those who receive may not suffer." and One-hundred-and-twenty-fifth-st., last night, om The Boston Budget. Before the Army of the Potomac moved up the Peninsula in the early part of '61 General Butter-field Issued an order prohibiting foraging. The army had been on the murch but a few hours when the general saw a color sergeant with a goose hanging over his shoulder along with the colors.

REASON ENOUGH FOR THE SACRIFICE.

The general, surprised, stopped the sergeant and said:

hat regiment do you belong to?"

"To the forth New-York, General, replied the soldier.

"And to what brigade?"

"To your brigade, General,"

"And did you hear, before we began this march, an order read forbidding foreging?"

"I did, General,"

"Then why, sir, do I find you with this goose which you have evidently killed?"

"I'll tell you, General," said the soldier, "just how it was. As I was marching along, minding my own business, this goose came and hissed at the flag, and I would have killed it if it had had ten lives."

The sergeant kept the goose.

A DIFFERENT KIND OF ANIMAL

Office Boy-Mr. Gayman sent me to tell you not to keep dinner waitin' fur 'im this evenin'. He's put to go to the lodge on important business.

Mrs. Gayman-To the lodge? Oh, yes. He is going to "ride the goat," I suppose.

Office Boy-No, I don't think it's a goat, I heard him tellin' Mr. Quickstep he was goin' out on a little lark. The Chicago Tribune.

INFLAMMATIONS, HEMORRHAGES, AND ALL PAIN.

Prepared only by POND'S EXTRACT CO., NEW YORK AND LONDON. See our name on every wrapter and label.

GEN, HARRISON AT THE FEAST. DINNER OF THE PENNSYLVANIA NEW-ENG-LAND SOCIETY.

THE EX-PRESIDENT THE GUEST OF HONOR-HE REPLIES TO THE TOAST "THE PRESI-DENT OF THE UNITED STATES." Philadelphia, Dec. 22.—Puritanical simplicity did not enter into the thirteenth annual festival of the New-England Society of Pennsylvania to night. The festival took the form of a dinner given at the Continental Hotel, and the affair was one of the plesantest of the kind that have ever taken place in Philadelphia. The guests, who numbered 300, included ex-President Harrison, ex-United States Senator George F. unds, the Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale, Murat Halstead, Congressman C. A. Boutelle, ex-Postmaster-General John Wanamaker, Mayor Stuart, the Rev. J. S. MacIntosh and others, Charles Emory Smith, president of the society, was the presiding officer. To his right sat the ex-President and then came Mr. Wanamaker, Con-President and then came Mr. Wanamaker, Con-gressman Boutelle, Charles H. Cramp, the well-known shippulider; the Rev. Dr. MacIntosh and Vice-President John H. Converse, of the society. To the left of Mr. Smith sat Dr. Haie, ex-Senator Edmunds, Murat Halstead, the Rev. Dr. S. D. McConneil and the Rev. Dr. Dana. The large dining-hall was beautifully decorated. General Harrison sat beneath an overhanging bower. A hidden orchestra rendered music during the evening.

The dinner was to have begun at 5:39 o'clock, The dinner was to have begin at 5:30 o'clock, but it was over an hour later when a fifer and a drummer, dressed in Revolutionary garb and playing "Yankee Dooddle," headed the procession and marched into the dining room with ex-President Harrison, leaning upon the arm of President Smith. While the guests were assembling, an impromptu reception was tendered to the ex-President and the other well-known guests.

the ex-President and the cutes guests.

Bifore the guests were seated the Rev. Dr. Dana, chaptain of the society, asked the blessing, and then the banquet began. The menu, of which pork and beans and New-England pumpkin ple formed a part, was discussed until 9:20 o'clock. At that hour President Smith announced a change in the order of toasts, and introduced General Harrison as the first speaker. This was because of the limited time of the ex-President. General Harrison was received with loud and continued applause. He responded extemporaneously to the toast "The President of the United States" as follows: ed extemporaneously to the toast of the United States" as follows:

GREETED WITH CHEERS AND LAUGHTER. "Mr. President and Gentlemen of the New-Eng land Society of Philadelphia: When my good friend and your good neighbor and president, Mr. Charles Emery Smith, invited me to be present to-night I felt a special demand upon me to yield to his request. I thought I owed him some reparation for appointing him to an office the emoluments which did not pay his expenses. (Laughter.) Your which did not pay his expenses. (Laughter) Your cordial welcome to-night crowns three days of most pleasurable stay in this good city of Philadeiphia. The days have been a little crowded. I think there have been what our friends of the Four Hundred would probably call eight distinct functions, but your cordiality and the Kind words functions, but your cordiality and the Kind words of your presiding officer quite dispel my fatigue, and suggest to me trait I shall rightly repay your kindness by making a very short speach. "It is my opinion that these members of the New-England Society are very creditable descendants of the forefathers. I am not quite sure that the forefathers would share this opinion if they were here (nughter), but that would be by reason of the fact that notwithstanding the load of substantial virtues which they carried through life, designations competition along had their speeches continuous messagaser office. They are to was a few of the continuous and the

The Grip

Attacks most readily people whose health-tone is low because of overwork, mental strain, exposure, colds, etc. To prevent the Grip, take Hood's Sarsa-

Hood's Pills are hand made and perfect in proportion and appearance. 25c. per box.

(Applause.)

General Harrison left the hall shortly after 10 o'clock, and with his niece, Mrs. Dimmick, left the city for Indianapolis at 10:25 o'clock.

The other toasts were "American Expansion," replied to by Murat Halstead; "The Other Pilgrims," by the Rev. Dr. MacIntosh, and "Hail, Mayflower; Hail, Columbia," by Cengressman Boutelle.

ENTERTAINING THE EX-PRESIDENT. GENERAL HARRISON THE GUEST OF THE TRADES

LEAGUE AND OF CHARLES EMORY SMITH IN PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, Dec. 22.-A reception to ex-President Harrison was given from 12 to 1 o'clock this after noon in the rooms of the Trades League, and about 1,000 of Philadelphia's business men shook his hand. The affair was wholly informal. The exhis hand. The affair was wholly informal. The exPresident was introduced to the visitors by Willlam W. Foulkrod, president of the Trades League.
Next to General Harrison stood Governor Pattison, and then came Mayor Stuart, ex-Postmaster John Field, ex-Senator Edmunds and ex-Postmaster John Field, ex-Senator Edmunds and ex-Postmaster-General Wanamaker. After the reception, Charles Emory Smith, ex-Minister to Russia, escorted General Harrison to his home, where a luncheon was given.
The guests included Mr. Wanamaker, Murat Halstead and Mrs. Dimmick, the ex-President's nicce, who has been a guest of Mr. Smith's family for several days. The ex-President spent the afternoon at Mr. Smith's home.

GLANCES HERE AND THERE.

Professor Royce, of Harvard, who came to town the other day, has a youthful son who is an imp He's a wee bit of a chap, but he is what is known as a "terror." The story about him which firs gave him fame to the world was that about his sprinkling a lawn. He was just big enough to carry he nozzle of the hose. A very learned and dearly beloved gentleman coming along-it might have been Dr. Edward Everett Hale or the late Dr. Peabody-stopped to watch the youngster and satt kindly: "What are doing, my little man?" "I'm turning the hose on you, you old billygoat," said the innocent, and he drove a geyser spring into the gentleman's face. This terrible infant has his own action about baby brothers. One day the baby's norse left it in its carriage on the sidewalk while she ran into the house. Young Royce promptly wheeled the carriage into the misdle of the narrow street, and then climbed back to the sidewalk. A baker's wagon, spinning around the corner, just missed running down the baby. A few minutes later the baker, driving back, found the carriage in the street, the boy placidly awaiting developments. "See here," said the baker, "if you don't roll that baby out of the street hell be run over," "Will he?" said the boy, contentedly. "Well, that's what I put him there for,"

Professor Royce's son has several ideas of own. One of them is about his father. The professor is a short man, with an immense head, cov-ered with wavy red hair. He was lying on a couch one day, resting, when he noticed an ordinus silence maintained by his heir. The boy was in deep contemplation over something. "What are you thinking about, my son?" asked Mr. Hoyce, no loubt pleased to see him thoughtful. "I'm think ing what a darned homely father I've got," aning what a darked the sweet cherub. A woman who was call-ing upon Mrs. Royce asked Mr. Royce, jr., if be ing upon Mrs. Royce asked Mr. Royce, fr., if he liked his kindergarten, "It's the best school in Cambridge," he answered, "and I like it. I like Miss Smith, too, my teacher. I go up to the platform, stick my tongue out and say 'Hello, Smith' Then she says, 'You are a bad boy. You can't stay here, go right home.' And that's what I want her to say," added the young scapegrace.

The Broadway cable road must be a good com petitor of the elevated road. The cars seem to be crowded at some points of the line at all hours of the day. "How many people do you seat on the day. 'tow many people as year and average trip" was asked of a conductor one night after he had picked up a good load of "fares." 'Oh," he answered with a knowing smile, "it isn't the people we sent that count so much: It's the people who stand up. We can carry more people stunding than the seats will hold."

Miss Ethel Hyde, a coustn of Miss Emma Eames is said to have a voice which in many ways equal-that of the new famous opera singer. Indeed, many of Miss Hyde's enthusiastic admirers who remen Miss Eames before her voice had been trained her Miss Eames before her voice had been trained abroad say that the former's voice is superior to her cousin's, the training being taken into consideration. Her voice is said to be remarkably sweet and flexible, but her friends do not think that the public is likely to enjoy her singing, for the reason that she is a "home body," and has no thought of going on the stage. Maine people, by the way, had cause to feel satisfaction repetity with some of her daughters. One evening when it was expected that Miss Earnes would sing in opera at the Metropolitan she was unable to appear on account of liness. Nordica took her place. Both are daughters of Maine.

Despite the assertions by many college under dangerous than it was a few years ago, footbal active steps have already been taken to modify the nctive steps have already been taken to mounty the playing rules in important particulars. Football is too good a game to be spoiled by excessive rough-ness or needless danger, and its friends feel conf-dent that the game can be played without ro many accidents, and still be none the less interesting and vantage to pedestrians at night, they have, in a measure, robbed them of one convenience. The measure, robbed them of one convenience. The street names remain on the unused lamp-posts, and people have difficulty in reading the signs. Despite the simplicity of New-York's cross-street system, strangers have difficulty in finding their way to a precise locality, although it is easy for almost any one to get within halling distance. Not only strangers, but veteran New-Yorkers, miss the lux-ury of realizing their instructions on the lamp-posts.

A meeting of 2,000 men and women connected with parilla, which makes the blood the Planet jute, yarn and carpet mills, in Brookpure and keeps up the healthtone so that the system throws off attacks of the Grip, Diphtheria, Typhoid Fever, Pneumonia and other diseases.

Hood's Saranils Cures

Hood's Saranils Cures

d's Pille are hand made and perfect in proportion ppearance. Ecc. per box.

RUBBER COODS

> Suitable for Holiday Gifts, including our new styles in MACKINTOSHES TOYS, BALLS, DOLLS, SHE TOHLET AUTICLES, etc. Full assortment at INSPECTION INVITED.

HODGMAN RUBBER COMPANY.

23D ST. STORE OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL CHRISTMAS A DRYGOODS THIEF CAUGHT.

ARNOLD, CONSTABLE & CO., OF NEW-YORK, SYSTEMATICALLY ROBBED.

DANIEL P. SHAW, A SHIPPING CLERK FOR THE FIRM, ARRESTED AT SARATOGA-STOLEN GOODS IN HIS POSSESSION.

Saratoga, Dec. 22-By the arrest here on Thurs day of Daniel P. Shaw, formerly a shipping-clerk in the large New-York drygoods house of Arnold, onstable & Co., the first step was made toward bringing to justice a gang of thieves who have been plundering the firm for months. Silks, satins, lace and linens valued at from $9,000 to $10,000 were found in Shaw's house on Greenfield Mountain. Several cases of valuable imported goods were also found at the railroad station at Foster's Corners, where they had been delivered to await Shaw's orders; the value placed on the latter lot is about $3,000. Detective Grady, of Superintendent Byrnes's staff, made the arrest. Shaw's arrest will, undoubtedly, lead to the de-

Shaw's arrest will, undoubtedly, lead to the detection and punishment of a ring of thieves believed to exist in the drygoods house. For many months the firm has been plundered right and left, but all efforts to that the culprits were in vain. The shipping elerist books bore every evidence of being correct, and the firm was at a loss to account for the deficit in their stock. In October last two elerist were arrested, but this did not prevent the leakage from continuing. At last the operations become bolder, and show finally ran away. He must have had confederates in the store, judging by the amount of goods he had near him when another. methods of the gang, most of whom are

The methods of the gang most of whom are now under surveillance, and who will be arrested if they attempt to leave the city, were simple; they would consign the goods to fictitious customers, and once out of the store it was impossible to trace them. The loss, so far as known, will probably be $55,000. The members of the firm do not care to say much, but they do not deny that the loss runs up into the thousands. Their representative said yesterday that a searching investigation was being made, and that many were suspected. Names were refused, as it was thought that publication would scare the thieves away. This precaution, however, is an unnecessary one, as all attempts to escape would be futile.

COLONEL WILLIAM C. YOUNG DEAD.

HE WAS THE OLDEST LIVING GRADUATE OF WEST POINT AND A WELL KNOWN CIVIL ENGINEER:

Colonel William C. Young, who was the oldest lying West Point graduate, died shortly after noon yesterday, at his home, No. 465 West Twentyember 25, 1739, and was in his ninety-fifth year The city of Youngstown was founded and named

WILLIAM C. VOUNG

WILLIAM C. YOUNG.

In the West Point Military Academy, was graduated in 1822 and made a fleutenant, serving in the 3d Regiment of Artiflery. After serving four years he resigned, and began practice as a civil engineer. His career was an important one. Among other great works in the building and management of which he was concerned were the New-York Central Bailroad, the Massachusetts and Western Railroad, the Bailmore and Ohio Railroad, and the Panatana Railroad, he being president of the latter. He was chief engineer of both the Schemectady and Saratoga, and the Schemectady and Utica Bailroads, which were among the first railways built in this country. He was chief engineer of the Hadson Hiver Railroad, which we completed in 1851. He then accepted the of a of president of the road, but resigned some years after, and began practice again.

again.
Two sons and two daughters survive him; the former are Caryl Young, of Chicago, and William Edward Young, of Buffalo; and the latter, Mrs. R. L. Daken, of Evanston, Ill., and Missa Mary L. Young, of this city.
This afternoon, at 4 o'clock, funeral services will be held at No. 455 West Twenty-third-st. The body will be buried on Sinday morning, in the Albany Rural Cemetery.

JERSEY MILLS SUSPEND OPERATIONS. Philipsburn, N. J., Dec. 22—The Warren Foundry and Machine Company, of this place, will close its shops to-morrow. They will remain closed until Dover, N. J., Dec. 22.-The Dover Iron Company issued orders yesterday for the suspension of the mills to-morrow for an indefinite period. Two

FAGE LIKE A BURN

Bloody Water Oozed Out Constantly. No Peace Day or Night. Doctors Mailed. Cured by Cuticura.

I 'y child's disease, which was the worst kind of acrema, started on one cheek like a ring worm. It is spread and itched so the poor little fellow had no peace night or day. Then it started on the other cheek and chia, until all were raw as a piece of boefsteak, like a burn where you would rab off the skin, and blood water cored out constantly. His sufferings were terrible I know, although he was but six months old and could not tell how he may be stratch, then he would rub his poor little cheeks on his shoulders to relieve the innerse itching. I had as good a doctor as was in Philadelphia, but he falled to relieve him. I read of the Curricura Remedies, and at Tychild's disease, which was the worst kind the linears are as a season of the Cuticuta Remedies, and at once purchased them. Strange to say that very night he rested without scratching his face, and from that on he improved and soon was entirely circal. I would like anyone suffering from this terrible disease to see my boy, who is in his twelfth year now. His complexion is as clear and smooth as can be. This is an unsolicited testimonal, and every word is true. I thank food for my child's recovery, and I thank the manufacturer of CUTICUTA.

MRS. E. S. GAMELE,
852 N. Forty-Second St., Philadelphia.

CUTICURA WORKS WONDERS

And have effected the most wonderful cures of torturing and disfiguring skin and scalp diseases of infants and children ever recorded. They afferd instant rellef, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy cure when the best physicians and all other remedies fail.

Sold throughout the world. Price, Cuticura, toc.; Soar, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1. POTTER DECO AND CHEM. CORP. Sole Proprietors, Boston. Ag" How to Cure Skin Diseases," mailed free. BABY'S Skin and Scalp purified and beautified by Curroura Soap. Absolutely pure.

S IF TIRED, ACHING, NERVOUS Mothers knew the comfort, strength and vitality in Cutieura Anti-Pain Plasters, they would never be without thous. reduction in wages. A petition signed by the workmen and citizens has been forwarded to Washington asking the Congressman from this district to vote against the Wilson bill. Two hundred and fifty men are thrown out of employment on account of the mills shutting down.

The latest and most of the mills shutting down.

A BLUNDER AT ALBANY.

ALLEGED FAILURE TO CANVASS RICHMOND COUNTY'S VOTE FOR DELEGATES.

THE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES FOR CONSTITU. TIONAL CONVENTION IN THE VITH SENATE RECONVENE AND RECANVASS

THE VOTE !- A PREVIOUS ERROR'S COSTLY RESULT.

[EY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

Albany, Dec. 22.-The announcement was made to-day that one of the clerks of Secretary of State Rice had made an error in computing the vote for Senate district delegates to the Constitutional Convention, and that as a result of this mistake the Republican party would have five less delegates in the Convention than it supposed it had elected. The Senate district affected by the error is the VIth, the one which contains Gravesend, the home of John Y. McKane, where such gigantic repeating was successfully perpetrated at the November election. The district embraces part of Kings County, and all of Richmond County. Although there were extensive election frauds in both countles, yet popular sentiment was so intense against the Democratic candidates that John McCarty, the Democratic candidate for Senator, has only 56 plural ity, and the five Democratic candidates for delegate to the Constitutional Convention now alleged to have been elected have only from 236 o 555 majority.

The friends of Henry Wolfert, the Republican andidate for Senator, believe that, in view of the fraudulent registration and repeating at Gravesend, the vote of that town should be thrown out by the State Senate, and he be admitted as a member of that body, instead of McCarty, Chapter 8 of the laws of 1893, under which the Constitutional Convention delegates were elected

Such convention may adopt such rules and regulations for its own government as a majority of its members may determine, and it shall be the judge of the election and qualifications of its own members.

The Constitutional Convention, therefore, has the same right as the Legislature to expel such of its members as it may believe were not elected. It can expel the delegates elected by the Gravesend vote. The delegates alleged to have been elected in the VIth District are James W. Riggs, Eugene A. Curran, George W. Roderick, William M. Mullen and Thomas W. Fitzgerald. The State Board of Canvassers on December 13 formally declared that the Republican candidates for delegates in this district-John C. Kinkel, Charles L. Pashley, William Deterling, J. Lott Nostrand and Charles Kurth-were elected. As Secretary of State

Jam Deterling, J. Lott Nostrand and Charles J. Kurth.—were elected. As Secretary of State Rice was about to issue certificates of election to the Republicans his clerk suddenly discovered that he had omitted the vote of Richmond County from the vote of the Vith Senate District and that, with the Richmond County figures in come to Albany. He came here and, acting under the deneral Term of the Supreme Court for an order for the Republicans who had been declared elected to show cause next Wednesday why the State Board of Canvassers who had been declared elected to show cause next Wednesday why the state Board of Canvassers that prices therefore will have a chance to fight for the rights before the Supreme Court on Wednesday.
This is not the first serious error the Democratic State Board of Canvassers has made, a year ago its members declared that a propose and mendment to the Canstitution, authorizing the sale of the State's and springs, had failed of adoption; but the amendment had, in fact, been adopted. The County Clerk of Queena County had reported the vote of that county erroneconstr. The mistake was not discovered in Staoffice of the Secretary of State, and the adopted of Canvassers announced the result of the State Board held that they could not reconverse without a legislative enabling act, after having adjourned. They accordingly did not reasonable, and the Constitution is still or the State's sait springs, the seleof the State's sait springs, the seleto converse without a legislative enabling act, after having adjourned. They accordingly did not reasonable, and the Constitution is still or the state's sait springs. One result of the solution, and the Constitution is still or the state's sait springs, 30 nersult of the hard of Canvassers announced the amend of expense to the State of nearly $3,0000 a year, to the leave of them, and that the springs are a source of expense to the State of nearly $3,0000 a year, to the leave of the secretary of the Democratic County Clerk of Queens County, and o

Canvassers.

The question may well be asked: "What authority has the State Board of Canvassers to reconvene and canvass the vote for Constitutional Convention delegates when it held a venr ago that it had no authority to reconvene and recanvass the vote for the Salt Springs and recanvass the vote for the Salt Springs.

Jersey upon application for that purpose. At 5:30 the case was again before the Vice-Chancellor on an application for the toparcies of the appointment of a receiver in New-Jersey. An order to show cause was granted, returnable next Tuesday in Jersey City. The examination of the books is to begin the same day.

Fapers in an order to show cause why the appointment were served. ear ago that it had no authority to reconvene and recanvass the vote for the Salt Springs amendment?" One law the Republican Legisamendment?" One law the Republican Legislature should at once pass, requiring every county in the State to have its election returns in Albany by December 1 every year. This will give the various county boards, which canvass the election returns, ample time to do their work; and it will also enable the Secretary of State to have erroneous election returns corrected before their submission to the State Board of Canvassers. The latter body also might well be required to meet upon a certain day in the middle of December, and not have the opportunity to hold such sudden meetings as it attempted to hold in 1891, when the Democratic lenders were attempting to count in a State Senate.

CYCLING CLUBS IN SESSION.

PREPARING FOR THE MADISON SQUARE GARDEN EXHIBITION.

An interesting meeting of the Metropolitan Association An interesting may be at the Columbia, in Fourteenth-st. last night. The attendance of delegates was large and an unusual amount of work was accomplished. The reports of the different committees showed good results

When the Cycling Show Committee read its report it was shown that the Metropolitan Association will receive 29 per cent of the net profits for allowing the Madison Square Garden Company to use its name during the show, and that the show will be a success seems assured, for

The show will run from January 8 to 13.

A lively discussion followed the suggestion regarding the calling of a trade meeting, to be held at Madison Square Garden on Wadnesday, January 10. The meeting will be called a special session of the association. The Political Committee of the association was increased from three to six, and will attend the hearing before the theart of Aldermen on Tuesday regarding the light law, which requires all bicycles and vehicles to carry lights at

AGAINST THE GULF ROAD RECEIVERSHIP. Denver, Dec. 22 .- An evening paper to-day says:

There is a well defined rumor that the Gulf reelvership is in danger of being suddenly terminated at any time. The powerful hands that are at work in the effort to reorganize the entire Union Pacific system are said to be stretched out toward the Gulf lines, and a foreclosure by the Gulf bond-holders and a restoration of the system to the Union Pacific control is threatened. By the Trumbull receivership the Union Pacific lost some of its best territory. J. W. Jennings, said to be a personal representative of General G. M. Dodge, the agent of the bondholders, has been in Denver recently, and, it is believed, has been making a secret investigation of the Gulf System affairs. To foreclose would mean that the Gulf would go out of the hands of the independent receiver and be secured by the Union Pacific receivers. It is well known that General Dodge is a member of the managing committee of the bondholders, and he showed considerable interest in the appointment of a receiver, having sought the appointment himself. He is one of the foremost men in the reorganization scheme, and all who are interested in that plan are decidedly opposed to the separate receivership for the Gulf, division." in the effort to reorganize the entire Union Pacific

LAKEWOOD TRAINS. Leave New-York from station Central Railroad of New-Jersey, foot Liberty-st., North River, at 4:30, 8:15 a. m., 1:45, 2:40 and 4:30 p. m. No Sunday trains.

The latest and most correct experience Full Dress Coat for the swell dress should measure—for a 36-in. breast-40 inches in length from the colle seam to the bottom of the skirt.

We think ours is the only ready. to-wear stock in which this style can be found.

You can have onemade at you tailor's and you will notice a materia difference between his and ours-in price only—Our Dress Shirts, Ties, and Gloves are in keeping with the style of our Coat.

Clothiers and Furnishers,

279, 281 AND 283 BROADWAY Bet. Chambers and Reade Sta

Satisfaction guaranteed or money returned.

Christmas Gifts. Reed & Barton,

SILVERSMITHS.

In addition to elaborate and expensive sets of table and toilet: ware, we have a full collection of single articles suitable for men. women, and children, and at prices warranted as low as elsewhere.

A choice selection of enameled goods, delicately tinted, and of unusual merit.

A large assortment of smal wares at popular prices: Ciga Cases, Cigarette Cases, Cigar Cutters, Match Boxes, Bon Bon Boxes, Pin Trays, Pencils, Penholders, Bookmarks, Knives, Buckles, Belts, Clasps, Cut Glass Mounted in Silver, and numberless other useful articles, such as are wanted by all of a receiver should not be made permanent were served on E. S. Stokes at the Hoffman House last evening.

THE WEATHER REPORT.

Washington, Dec. 22.—The storm to the north of Mon-tana has moved to the east of Mantioba. Light rain has fallen in the lake regions and on the Pacific coset. The temperature has fallen in New-England and Northera New-York and has generally risen elsewhere.

The temperature will rise slightly in the Atlantic States, except in the extreme Southenst, and will probably fall to the west of the Missteappi River. Showers may be expected in the lake regions and New-England. DETAILED FORECAST FOR TO DAY.

For Maine, New-Hampshire and Vermont, snow flurries turning to light rain; south winds; slightly warmer. For Mas-achuectts, showers; slightly warmer in northvest portions; south winds.
For Rhode Island and Connecticut, showers; southeast to south winds; slightly warmer in the interior.

For Virginia and North Carolina, fair, slightly warmer

For Virginia and North Caroline, fair, slightly warmer in the interior; south winds.

For Eastern New-York, showers; saghtly warmer in northern portion; southeast to south wind.

For New-Jewey and Eastern Pennsylvania, showers; sentheast winds; slightly warmer.

For the Bistrict of Columbia, Delaware and Maryland, generally fair Saturday, slightly warmer; winds becoming south.

For South Carolina and Georgia, fair; slightly warmer in the interior; south winds.

For Western New-York, fair except showers on the lake; suith winds.

For Western Pennsylvania and Ohio, fair, except showers on the lake; south winds.

For Indiana, fair; south winds.

TRIBUNE LOCAL OBSERVATIONS. Inch. TM HOUNS: Morming. Night. 1 23 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 12 1 2 5 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11

Tribune Office, Dec. 23, 1 a. m.-The sky was over cast yesterday. There were slight showers. The temperature ranged between 27 and 48 degrees, the average (1978) being 81s higher than on Thursday and 194 higher than on the corresponding day last year.

In and near New-York to-day the weather is likely to be slightly warmer; showers are indicated.

The Only Way

to properly prepare cereal toods is by roasting. It preserves all the nutritious elements and produgests the oils and starch.

Roasted Oats

has a sweet, delicious, nutty flavor, and will never become stale musty in any climate. It highly recommended for childrard invalids.

The Roasting Does It